Note from the CEO

The opening of the Victoria International Marina launches a new era in yachting on the Pacific. Strategically located at the center of yachting on the West Coast of North America, our marina provides a purpose-built facility that caters in first class to large yachts looking to visit, indulge, provision, upgrade, store, or even put their boat on the market.

This booklet is your personal invitation to invest at the ground floor through pre-purchase of one of only seven long-term licensed slip contracts to hit the market.

In addition to our slips, we are also offering premier office spaces for lease within our on-site yacht business center. We hope you enjoy making your way through this offer and look forward to welcoming you on board.

Craig E. Norris, CEO

“ BC is one of my favourite places in the world for boating. The seas are protected, anchorages plentiful and basically endless cruising opportunities.

The location of the new marina is great for those that want some privacy without having to be in the heart of the tourist area.”

Community and the environment.

As ambassadors for the Pacific marine lifestyle, the Victoria International Marina is seen as a community leader with a collaborative approach to achieve economic, social and environmental sustainability. With a focus on innovation, it has environmental practices and projects already underway that are aligned with a modern and progressive Canada.

VIM is also inspiring the local community to become ambassadors for the preservation of marine life, with a project that brings together local students, marine experts and conservation groups, to construct and study reef ball habitats for marine life. A similar project will have local students raise and release young salmon to boost a much-needed food source for the local orca population.

The marina is often invited to present its environmental best practices. A 'sold out' tour was provided to nationwide delegates of Canada's Impact Symposium; tourism stakeholders exploring the impact on Canada's economic, social, environmental and cultural fabric. In another tour with the ICOMIA / International Council of Marine Industry Associations, marina best practices were received in awe!

Victoria International Marina is on a mission to protect and improve their harbour and the local environment. The marina is pursuing the highest certification level (5 anchors) of the Georgia Strait Alliance's Clean Marine certification program, a comprehensive audit and operations program that ensures marinas are operating to the highest standards of safety and environmental responsibility.

THE INDUSTRY

About 43% of adult Canadians (12.4 million people) participate in boating and 20% (6.0 million) own a boat.

Canada's core recreational boating industry has direct revenues of about $4.9 billion per year and directly employs about 45,000 people. The impact of the core recreational boating industry ripples out into the Canadian economy in many ways. Those revenues make a contribution to Canada's national economy (GDP) of about $5.6 billion per year and are responsible for about 75,000 jobs. The Marina industry itself contributes approximately 19% or $1 Billion and employs over 16,000 people.

Boating industry associations in Canada ranked "access & moorage"<sup>1</sup> as the number two influence affecting the boating market. The Victoria International Marina will fill a much-needed supply gap in the region's large vessel moorage inventory.

The opening of the Victoria International Marina has piqued the interest of the international (and local) boating communities. Our story is one of passion, vision, resilience, tenacity and perseverance. Publications of influence have endorsed the marina by telling and sharing our story. They have been our supporters from inception and continue to do so.

“ The only downside to cruising in the area is finding adequate moorage and shoreside facilities, particularly for vessels over 100 feet. This marina is really checking all the boxes for a world-class facility.”

Jaimie Wakeham
Captain & co-owner of Northwest Yacht Support

THE ECONOMICS

The Yacht Fleet // The number of yachts cruising the West Coast in 2017 represents just under 4% of the total active superyacht fleet which highlights a significant opportunity when you consider that the global superyacht fleet is looking for an alternative to the Mediterranean's overcrowded destinations and the Caribbean's sea of sameness. The West Coast of Canada boasts one of the largest stretches of safe cruising water in the world.

Slip trends.

With a consistent increase in the number of boaters and a shrinking slip supply, moorage rates are on a steady rise in the region with no apparent end in sight.

The majority of coastal marinas were built under the more lenient environmental regulations of the past. Current guidelines require significantly more study and permitting prior to and during works, the use of eco-friendly construction practices, and a specialized work force. This adds up to significant barriers to entry into the market and a certainty that existing stock will rise in value.

"The west coast of British Columbia is home to some of the world's most breathtaking boating experiences. The past several years have seen a steady increase in large yacht traffic and with no end in site as visitors relay stories of towering fjords, spectacular scenery, orca whales, abundant fishing, sheltered waters and endless cruising water to their friends."

- Jim Connolly, Yacht BC Yacht Sales

Images: Local marinas shown at capacity.

Slip pricing.

For the last ten years, overall moorage-rate increases in this region have averaged 5% year-over-year. Data shows that larger slips are subject to slightly higher inflation rates, most likely a result of the trend to larger boat sizes with no corresponding growth in slip supply. Data is limited for existing regional slips in VIM's size range, but based on what data there is and some extrapolation on smaller slip supplies, it is expected that rates could increase by at least 5% per year on slips over 90 feet.

Yacht owner-investor.

As a yacht owner-investor, the Victoria International Marina has taken the position to offer an “owner/investor” the ability to purchase a moorage slip that best suits their needs or budget, be it for short or long-term consideration. Considered a low risk value investment, the unrestricted timelines for disposition associated with this purchase allows the prospective yacht owner the ability to determine the length of the hold as it best suits or coordinates with their managed portfolio. As stated in the Investment Offering, the realization of passive income from the slip’s transient use while the owner’s yacht is at sea, adds to investment value while offsetting normal maintenance or common associated costs. Transient moorage, and/or longer-term subletting of the slip are fully managed by Victoria International Marina.

As with the analysis for the strict “investor”, the following is a sample analysis outlining the potential returns with the purchase of a 40-year lease license agreement as the “yacht owner.” As previously mentioned, without imposition of penalty or restrictions on disposition, yacht owners can consider the sale of this asset (the slip), well in advance of 40 years, governed only by one’s desire to change sailing passages or home ports. Therefore, the analysis considers the following parameters in establishing a positive neutral Net Present Value, with an Internal Rate of Return of 4.49, net of operational costs:

1. time value of money over a 5-year possession
2. a forecasted Discount Rate of 4.1%
3. a pro forma analysis for transient income using an extremely conservative reservation demand of only 50 days
4. annual asset growth valuation of 4%
5. annual inflationary moorage cost of 5%
6. associated operational costs are accounted for in annual positive cash flow

Investor.

Created for those with a passion and spirit for yachting only, or those on the cusp of purchasing their yacht, the Victoria International Marina has taken the position to offer an “investor” the ability to purchase a moorage slip, be it for short or long-term consideration. Considered a low risk value investment, the unrestricted timelines for disposition associated with this purchase allows the prospective investor the ability to determine the length of the hold as it best suits or coordinates with their managed portfolio. The following sample analysis outlining the potential returns with the purchase of a 40-year lease license agreement. Without the imposition of penalty or restriction on disposition, most investors will consider the sale of this asset well in advance of 40-years to take advantage of slip inflation resulting from limited, to no supply. Therefore, the analysis considers the following:

1. a 90' slip investment
2. time value of money over a 5-year possession,
3. a forecasted Discount Rate of 6.1%
4. a pro forma analysis for transient income using an extremely conservative reservation demand of 189 days

Safe and secure investment.

British Columbia is more than a pristine natural treasure and global destination; the province led Canada in growth in 2015 with 3.1% and continues to lead into 2018. With a balanced government budget, the lowest debt to GDP ratio in Canada and AAA credit ratings, BC will be a stable business environment for years to come.

Our economy is diversified and growing, with vast natural resources, a thriving tech sector, tourism, manufacturing, aerospace, and marine technology – to name just a few. With the stability of tens of thousands of government, Navy, health and education workers, Victoria is at the heart of a thriving technology sector that employs 23,000 people with $3.15 billion in annual revenues. Victoria is the capital city of Canada's fastest growing provincial economy.

Greater Victoria is arguably Canada's most beautiful locale. In fact, publications like Condé Nast consistently rate Victoria as a top 10 global destination. BC's Sauder School of Business named Victoria the Greenest Transportation City in Canada, and Money Sense Magazine put it in the top 10 list of best Canadian places to live.

Canada's banks have been ranked the world's soundest by the World Economic Forum for over a decade. Canadian lenders achieved the highest score out of 148 countries, according to the World Economic Forum's annual Global Competitiveness Report.
